New Building Plan.

New Building Plan.

After an informal discussion on the erection of the new school which will be known as the Richmond avenue school, designed as a junior high school, it was decided that W. C. Edmondson, of the building and grounds committee, make a tour of a number of cities to view buildings similar to the one contemplated here. While in Cleveland, O., he will attend sessions of the National Educational association and gain ideas there.

A letter from the Teachers' association asking that the board express itself on the salary proposition in view of action taken by the city commission to lessen the financial stress. The matter was referred to the teachers' and textbooks committee. It was stated by Mrs. Walter Gray that the board already had informally expressed approval to the city's plan for relief and stood ready to raise salaries whenever the funds are made evallable.

A number of teachers and aids were elected last night and other business of—a routine nature was transacted. Prof. Jones reported that he was swaiting the orders of the mayor and of the health department before respening the schools. He reported that the close of January than at the close of the previous month and 2.581 more than at this time last year.

"The demand of 'no increase, no teaching' met with much success.
"Municipal officials controlling the purse-strings promptly did what was presently possible, and the public suddenly awoke to the necessity of developing a sentiment in favor of generous taxation for school purposes the schools should be properly and fully supported.

"A board of education ought not to be worried about money. It should have ample leisure to turn its attention to raising the educational value of the system.

"However, it is doubtful if the educational value of any system can be strengthened if the position of the board is a political job, and the board by concerted interference or partisan cabal interrupts the free action of a superintendent in an effort to select the best teachers and to inaugurate the best methods for the children.

"A board, for instance, should disapprove the selection of a teacher by a superintendent only for cause. A step in this direction would be the appointment of a board without salary."

"The committee on education of the next legislature with the advice of ex-perts in school administration could never the school administration could out a plan for such appointive

Wants Big Bond Issue.

"It is felt that the board will breathe a sign of relief that the president of the board has not taken occasion to make his report a paraphrased repetition of the welter of writing and speaking about the effect of the war en education, the high cost of living, 'readjustment and reconstruction,' and the necessity of plenty of money for high-class teachers, principals and superintendents and that these and only these things will lead us out of the wilderness.

"There is hope and encouragement for the Memphis city schools in spite of this flood of literature from the proceedings of the N. E. A. to veriest penny-a-liner and self-constituted high-brow. "What we need is the money-$2,500, 000 bond issue from the next legisla-

What was the secret of Lincoln's power? He revealed it once in a letter to a personal friend:

"I hold myself as an instrument of Providence. I have my own views and purposes. I have my convictions of duty and my notions of what is right.

"But I am conscious at every moment that all that I am, all that I have is subject to the control of a Higher Power."

"An instrument of Providence"-a steward of Almighty God-in that conviction lay his mastery.

To promote a wider consideration of the claims of Christian stewardship, both inside the churches and out, the Protestant denominations of America have set aside February, the month of Lincoln and Washington, as Christian Stewardship

Month, climaxing on Sunday, Feb. 22, as nationwide Stewardship Acknowledgment Sunday. These are fundamentals of Stewardship:

> 1. The recognition that life and all its possessions, are a trust from Almighty God.

> > this trust by setting aside a certain definite first proportion of time and income in His name and for His work.

2. The determination to execute

America's problems are spiritual and must find their final solution in the increase of the spirit of Lincoln.

The spirit of Christian stewardship that subordinates selfishness to service, and asks not: "How much can I get?" but "How much can I give?"

Will you dedicate some definite proportion of your income to His cause?
